DIPLOMA in Close Protection LEADERSHIP and MANAGEMENT

Close protection is a critical area of security that aims to ensure the safety and protection of high-risk individuals. Within this sector, the role of Leadership is of paramount importance. This monograph focuses on the role of the Team Leader, and Leadership in close protection, highlighting its responsibilities, skills and the specific challenges it faces, because we believe that to be a good Leadership, we need to be a good Team Leader

- I. Overview of close protection
- II. The role of the Team Leader in close protection
- III. The challenges of the Team Leader in close protection
- IV. Training and skills development for Team Leaders
- V. Case studies of successful Team Leaders in close protection
- VI. Leadership and Management

TECC 2 (Tactical Emergency Casualty Care)

E.C.P.O : SII LEVEL 5 EUROPEAN CLOSE PROTECTION OFFICER

A Close Protection Officer is more commonly known as a Bodyguard, exercising his function either as a team or, during a mission, in full autonomy. He is responsible for ensuring the protection of people during professional or private trips while remaining in compliance with the law.

He is capable of securing and intervening to protect the person (s). He is a privileged interlocutor and a «facilitator» of life for the people to be protected and his entourage. He works discreetly.

It is increasingly important to give an international dimension to a career as a CPO. This must take into account the largest international bodies (NATO, EU, NGO's, UN, etc.). Appropriate and optimal training AS WELL as an internationally recognised certificates will be a major asset in any international application for such a post.
